REMOTE LEARNING INFORMATION

Hello everyone! The Special Education ID team at Kyle Wilson wanted to reach out with some key information. As we transition to finish the school year for remote learning, please keep in mind that this is a first for us. As a division and a school family, this is unknown territory. We will do our best and adapt as we get more updates from our division on how we will proceed. As we get more information to address special education needs and services, teachers will contact their students' parents.

Please be on the lookout via emails and the class pages on the Kyle Wilson Elementary School website.

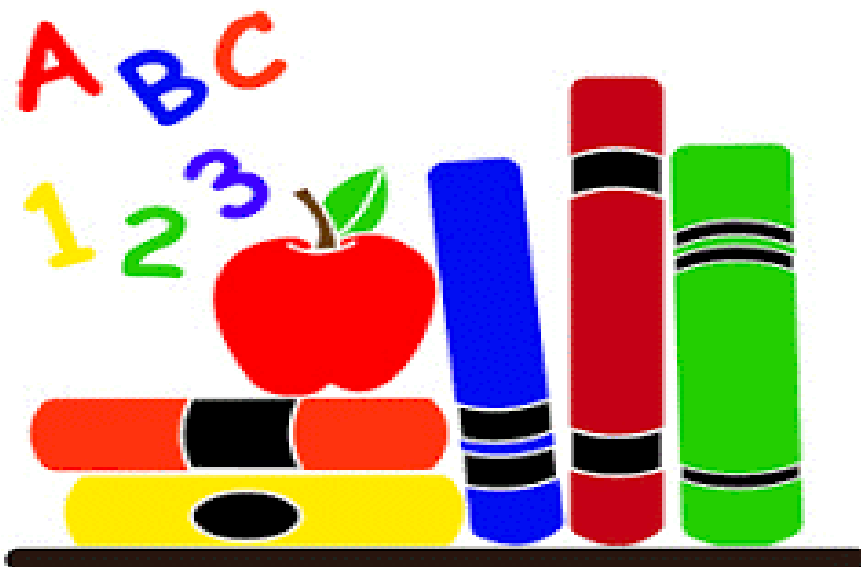

Teachers will be posting materials and resources on their class pages for parents and students to access at home. Everything we post is not mandatory and not graded. However, if students do participate in what their teachers post, they will have more opportunities of success with retention of curriculum and IEP goals. The standards that have been taught so far this school year are included here as well.

INFO ON STANDARDS LEARNED

Check your student's teachers class page for all standards that were learned.

Materials posted by their teacher will help reinforce the standards that have already been taught.

Some materials that were taught from the beginning of the school year may be harder for your student to recall. If your student is struggling on the materials posted, please reach out to their teacher. They can give you more resources and materials to help your student remember the material or relearn it.
